

Concerts with a Cause 2017-18

August 27 The Raleigh Ringers 3:00pm

"The precise co-ordination is astonishing...but it's the rock-solid musicianship that lingers long after the concerts have ended, for these folks are artists in the best sense of the word, and in addition they project delight in their work that is downright infectious.

The Ringers are simply the best in the business, doing what they do." – Classical Voice North Carolina
"We loved it so much we tried to get a flight changed to come hear your concert again!" – Anonymous Fan

The cause: Friendship Community Center

September 24 Timothy Albrecht, concert organist 3:00 pm

"creative, fertile imagination ... electric performances ... Lisztian virtuosity." – The American Organist

The cause: The Hale Foundation

October 29 Seraph Brass 3:00 pm

"High notes, low notes, fast notes, slow notes: Seraph Brass can play them all and with remarkable skill." - Gale Rose, Pratt Tribune

"From impressionist compositions to popular Broadway hits, the all-female brass quintet Seraph Brass showed off the tremendous versatility and range of brass instruments." - The Independent, Gallup, NM

The cause: Downtown Cooperative Church Ministries

December 24 Christmas Eve Concert and Lessons and Carols 10:30 pm

The Saint John Choirs and orchestra

The cause: Methodist Family Services

January 21 Monroe Crossing 3:00 pm

"For anyone who is looking for the best in bluegrass and the best in entertainment, I highly recommend Monroe Crossing. Thoroughly entertaining! One of the best!"

- Dick Beckley, President, Seven Mountains Bluegrass Association

The cause: GAP Ministries

March 25 A Collage of the Arts for Passion Week 7:00 pm

Actors, dancers, vocal and instrumental music, with visual art from seven centuries, set the scene for the Holy Week ahead.

Guest organist, John Ourensma

The cause: The United Methodist Children's Home