

Dear friends of Concerts with a Cause,

We hope this message finds you and your family healthy, safe, and exploring new ways of feeding your soul and enjoying music.

Concerts with a Cause is, for now, Concerts with a Pause.
And we miss you.

Since 2003, we have spent the summer months choosing “causes,” announcing our new season of performances, and inviting you to contribute to the joy. But this summer we join millions of arts patrons and musicians who are choosing to keep everyone safe by not gathering for live concerts.

So for now, everything is on hold.
As soon as it’s safe, we intend to return to live music performances presented free, benefiting our local organizations.
Those are working harder than ever to care for the needs of our community, and we want to help.

We thank our patrons for years of generous giving and joyful attendance for our concerts.
We hope to be with you again very soon.
Stay in touch. Reach out if you have questions.

Grace and Peace,
Jamie
